

Brass Diminishing Trim

By providing a ramped transition between one flooring surface to another, the B.A.T. Diminishing trim eliminates most potential trip hazards created between two different flooring types.

The Aluminium Diminishing, although decorative in appearance is manufactured to primarily serve this purpose in internal applications, and/or mild exterior applications.

When installing the Diminishing Trim externally, it is highly recommended that the Brass Diminishing Trim is used because of its improved resilience in harsh environments.
